Are you a crime drama junkie? Do you think you know all there is to know about the criminal justice system? This course will explore and dispel common myths in the criminal justice, such as crime rates, Miranda warnings, and the death penalty. Additionally we will critically examine statistics and research, as well as look to Supreme Court cases for explanations. NOTE: Online sections of CWI are designed for students in fully online degrees. Students who are taking any face-to-face classes should select a face-to-face or hybrid section of CWI.	$30.00

Using Design Thinking to Build a Life You Love Many of us want to be creative and often work to find creative outlets, but most people have yet to examine how to use the creative process purposefully. This course will focus on applying design thinking to harness our creativity and make it part of a process we can use to achieve important things and tackle challenges. Design thinking is as discussed in the book Designing Your Life: How to Live a Well-Lived, Joyful Life —a method of solving difficult and complex problems through thinking creatively and testing ideas. We will focus on how to use design thinking to build possibilities for your future education, career, and life. NOTE: Online sections of CWI are designed for students in fully online degrees. Students who are taking any face-to-face classes should select a face-to-face or hybrid section of CWI.

You Are What You Eat: Exploring Our Relationships with Food This course explores the complicated relationship between humans and their diet, using Michael Pollan's The Omnivore's Dilemma as a guide. In 21st century America, we have nearly limitless choices about what to eat. But those choices come with hidden costs. What we choose to eat affects everything from our personal physical and mental health to our communities to the global environment. Our diet may reflect deeply held ethical or religious beliefs. It may indicate our economic status or our cultural background. Or it may represent a mindful choice designed to fuel a healthy lifestyle. In this course, we will learn where our food comes from, how diet impacts our health, and what our individual diet choices mean within a global context. We will also learn practical tools and strategies to promote success in college and in life. Hybrid course - has an online component This class will have dedicated tutoring support.		$15.00

Myths and Legends of the Spanish World In this class we will discuss a variety of Spanish Myths and Legends. Does La Llorona live in the water ready to gobble up unsuspecting children? Will the Chupacabra ever be caught? What are the origins of these and other legends and what can we learn about the cultural/historical context in which they originated? How do they compare with other legends we are familiar with? In this course we will investigate legends and the countries where they first appeared, and develop a variety of academic skills to allow us to think critically about the connection between history, culture, and literature. Format will include reading, writing, discussion, and presentations. Hybrid course: has an online component		$15.00

TED-CWI: Lessons Worth Learning TED, which stands for Technology, Entertainment, and Design, is an organization famous for its "ideas worth sharing" in the form of 20-minute video presentations. Many are familiar with TED Talks and have probably watched a few, such as (insert example of popular talk?). TED uses ideas to inspire change in attitudes, lives, and ultimately, the world. Using Ted Talks and Ted-Ed(ucation) as our platform, this course will provide strategies to be successful in college while simultaneously sparking and celebrating your own ideas about learning and how to apply those ideas to your education. The final project of this course will allow you to showcase your innovation and skills through the creation of your own TED-Ed Lesson on student success skills. NOTE: Online sections of CWI are designed for students in fully online degrees. Students who are taking any face-to-face classes should select a face-to-face or hybrid section of CWI. Heroes and Villains: What does it mean to be a hero or a villain? We will consider both famous and obscure examples of unique individuals and their circumstances. Heroic stories can inspire us to be persistent and resilient in the face of trials, whereas stories of villains can serve as a warning and strengthen our resolve. What factors lead to an individual's success or failure? Various case studies will be examined relating to topics such as culture, opportunity, personality, genius, persistence, and achievement. This is an interdisciplinary course, primarily drawing from sociology, psychology and history. You will be able to develop practical tools to define your own personal and professional goals and determine how you can overcome obstacles to achieve your goals. Idaho is considered the "whitewater playground" for river enthusiasts. The state boasts numerous whitewater river trips that are easily accessible for day or multiday trips. River adventures will provide an experience you will never forget. How you remember the trip completely depends on your planning, preparedness and appreciating the force of Mother Nature. Those who take the time to understand, respect and utilize the energy of the river will undoubtedly return time and again to create memories that last a lifetime. This course will compare the enthusiasm of whitewater rafting to the enthusiasm of higher education learning. Both fields require extensive research, planning, goal setting, mentoring, first-hand experience, support and navigation to have a positive, successful experience. Each concept of whitewater rafting preparation will parallel a concept of preparing for and being successful in college. Hybrid course: has an online component

YOLO: Existing in the Modern World "You only live once" is a popular tag line of our modern society. While some say it just started with a rap song, Soren Kierkegaard, a dusty old Dane who lived more than 150 years ago, had some ideas that look remarkably like the phrase we use today. Through a study of some of his main themes of philosophy such as "passionate inwardness," "subjectivity," "the individual," and "the leap of faith," we will go on a cultural treasure hunt to see these very popular themes reflected in the movies, music, and short stories that are all around us. By the time you have finished this course, you will be able to decide for yourself if Kierkegaard was indeed the first one to claim YOLO. Transformative Storytelling: Shift Your World View Angela Davis said, "You have to act as if it were possible to radically transform the world. And you have to do it all the time." What does it mean to transform the world? It's an idea you'll hear as you begin your college journey, and this class will examine what that transformation can look like. We'll start building our classroom community by telling the stories of ourselves and our people; we will connect with each other by listening, reflecting, and thinking critically about the stories we tell ourselves and the world around us. Students will share their voices through oral storytelling and creative writing, and examine what the world can look like when it's rooted in interdependence, resilience, and regeneration. Modern Romance Find love and happiness in this class! In our modern world you need to have skills with mobile technology and the internet along with the communication tools to find your true love and win their heart. In this class we will develop the written and verbal communication skills used in romance. In this course, we will learn to learn from current research and your personal experiences to explore how to search for love and keep building true love from your continued learning that will last after the in-love experience has run its course. Moreover, we will learn how to "fight fair" making cultural connections in relationship and how to solve the problem of getting over someone without losing your cool. The college years are when many people meet their significant other. Additionally, there is a necessity in college to make and develop relationships that will use the same type of tools (yet not so intense) as do romantic relationships. With this class you'll better understand all relationships in general and specifically LOVE. You will come away with a game plan for success! Hybrid course: has an online component

You Are What You Eat: Exploring Our Relationships with Food This course explores the complicated relationship between humans and their diet, using Michael Pollan's The Omnivore's Dilemma as a guide. In 21st century America, we have nearly limitless choices about what to eat. But those choices come with hidden costs. What we choose to eat affects everything from our personal physical and mental health to our communities to the global environment. Our diet may reflect deeply held ethical or religious beliefs. It may indicate our economic status or our cultural background. Or it may represent a mindful choice designed to fuel a healthy lifestyle. In this course, we will learn where our food comes from, how diet impacts our health, and what our individual diet choices mean within a global context. We will also learn practical tools and strategies to promote success in college and in life. Hybrid course: has an online component		$15.00

Online	Online	ONL	26	28	garythomas@cwi.edu
What Are the Chances? Newspapers love to splash big headlines about death by shark, but did you realize that you are more likely to be killed by a statistician than by a shark? This topic will take a light-hearted but rigorous approach to probability, giving students the opportunity to exercise some simple mathematical operations while thinking about complex ideas. The theme will be approached from a variety of disciplines, looking not only at the mathematical concepts of probability, but also at its historical and philosophical underpinnings. Don't be afraid to sign up just because your math background is shaky! All calculations will be done with calculators, and nothing is more complex than simple addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division. About two-thirds of the material in this course is not covered in any other math course at CWI. NOTE: Online sections of CWI are designed for students in fully online degrees. Students who are taking any face-to-face classes should select a face-to-face or hybrid section of CWI.		$30.00

Discover the World; Discover Yourself This course is designed for students to become active and engaged members of the CWI community and also the world. By virtually traveling the world, learning about world cultures through their mythology, music, geography, religion, literature, and food. As we critically analyze how a culture operates, we will reflect on the diversity of the world and the connections that draw us together as a global community. We will consider how the world operates while understanding how we, as CWI students, can operate in our local community. We will discover and utilize our campus resources and engage in the community around us. We will finish the semester by creating a blueprint for our own individual culture and our place in the world. Online	Online	ONL	28	28	nataliewatson@cw.edu
Mindfulness for College Success What is mindfulness? What does it mean to be mindful? How mindful are you? This course aims to provide an overview of mindfulness (the ability to recognize and be aware of one's own thoughts or actions in a non-judgmental way) and relate this to the college experience as a student at CWI. We will cover many core concepts of being a student, study skills, learning styles, policies, and other formal aspects of education - but we will also be looking at how to be a more mindful person and what that means. We will cover aspects of the foundations, health, psychology, philosophy, and even politics of mindfulness. This course is partial experiential learning, which means there are Meditation Labs and exercises that will require you to be an active participant in this course. The best way to learn about mindfulness is through direct experience! We will learn ways of being more mindful through practices from the MBSR (Mindfulness-Based Stress Reduction) program. You will need to bring honest introspection and intent to this course - what you experience and feel really matters! This also means that what you get out of this course, at least partially, will be determined by the honesty and sincerity you bring to it! For some, mindfulness is a therapy, for others a technology, and for some it's a lifestyle choice - what does mindfulness mean to you? Let's find out! NOTE: Online sections of CWI are designed for students in fully online degrees. Students who are taking any face-to-face classes should select a face-to-face or hybrid section of CWI.

Transformative Storytelling: Shift Your World View Angela Davis said, "You have to act as if it were possible to radically transform the world. And you have to do it all the time." What does it mean to transform the world? It's an idea you'll hear as you begin your college journey, and this class will examine what that transformation can look like. We'll start building our classroom community by telling the stories of ourselves and our people; we will connect with each other by listening, reflecting, and thinking critically about the stories we tell ourselves and the world around us. Students will share their voices through oral storytelling and creative writing, and examine what the world can look like when it's rooted in interdependence, resilience, and regeneration. You Are What You Eat: Exploring Our Relationships with Food This course explores the complicated relationship between humans and their diet, using Michael Pollan's The Omnivore's Dilemma as a guide. In 21st century America, we have nearly limitless choices about what to eat. But those choices come with hidden costs. What we choose to eat affects everything from our personal physical and mental health to our communities to the global environment. Our diet may reflect deeply held ethical or religious beliefs. It may indicate our economic status or our cultural background. Or it may represent a mindful choice designed to fuel a healthy lifestyle. In this course, we will learn where our food comes from, how diet impacts our health, and what our individual diet choices mean within a global context. We will also learn practical tools and strategies to promote success in college and in life. Hybrid course - has an online component	$15.00

Ada County Campus Be the Author of Your Life Story Do you love stories? If you do, you're in good company! Stories have fascinated humans for thousands of years; guidance, enlightenment, and inspiration await us there. But what about the most important story you will ever encounter: the story of your own life? Is your life story one of power and accomplishment or one of confusion and impotence? Is that story soundly plotted or does it muddle along unguided? Is it written well, so that you and others can benefit from it? Most importantly, who is the author of your life story? Are you its plot master or is someone else penning the words while you just try to keep up? In this class, we will explore what story is, how stories are constructed, and what makes a story good. By sharing a few great stories we will buttress our understanding. And you will write a story of your own life - both the past you have already lived and the potential you want to fulfill. Online What Are the Chances? Newspapers love to splash big headlines about death by shark, but did you realize that you are more likely to be killed by a statistician than by a shark? This topic will take a light-hearted but rigorous approach to probability, giving students the opportunity to exercise some simple mathematical operations while thinking about complex ideas. The theme will be approached from a variety of disciplines, looking not only at the mathematical concepts of probability, but also at its historical and philosophical underpinnings. Don't be afraid to sign up just because your math background is shaky! All calculations will be done with calculators, and nothing is more complex than simple addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division. About two-thirds of the material in this course is not covered in any other math course at CWI. NOTE: Online sections of CWI are designed for students in fully online degrees. What goes into creating an elite athlete or being the best team in the world? Science and lots of it!! Science plays a key role in how athletes train, how they compete, what they eat, and, unfortunately, how they cheat. Throughout the term this course explores a range of topics in the world of science in sports including, sports nutrition, sports performance, sport injury and doping in sport. In addition to all these topics students will be able to have several first hand experiences in the CWI Human Performance and Health Lab to perform certain sport specific tests to see where they stand when compared to the best athletes in the world. Modern Romance Find love and happiness in this class! In our modern world you need to have skills with mobile technology and the internet along with the communication tools to find your true love and win their heart. In this class we will develop the written and verbal communication skills used in romance. In this course, we will learn to learn from current research and your personal experiences to explore how to search for love and keep building true love from your continued learning that will last after the in-love experience has run its course. Moreover, we will learn how to "fight fair" making cultural connections in relationship and how to solve the problem of getting over someone without losing your cool. The college years are when many people meet their significant other. Additionally, there is a necessity in college to make and develop relationships that will use the same type of tools (yet not so intense) as do romantic relationships. With this class you'll better understand all relationships in general and specifically LOVE. You will come away with a game plan for success! Hybrid course - has an online component

Idaho Authors and the West Course content will deal with the American West. The American West conjures images of cowboys and outlaws, gold mines and uncharted wilderness, Wild West shows and Hollywood, vast, empty spaces and suburban sprawl. It has long been viewed as rugged territory where the hearty, the visionary, and the brave can claim fortune, freedom, and fame. It is a land as much myth as reality, full of contradiction and complexity. Literature has played its role creating, perpetuating, and debunking these myths. This course will introduce you to various Idaho writers and their writings. Through their fiction, non-fiction, and poetry-much of it set in the state of Idaho, we will explore the ever-changing West and analyze its many meanings. How do these writers and writings envision the West, and how do these visions fit with your own, as a College of Western Idaho student? Inspired by what we read, we will use our own Western experiences as material for the newest wave of Idaho-authored stories, memoirs, and poems. Heroes and Villains What does it mean to be a hero or a villain? We will consider both famous and obscure examples of unique individuals and their circumstances. Heroic stories can inspire us to be persistent and resilient in the face of trials, whereas stories of villains can serve as a warning and strengthen our resolve. What factors lead to an individual's success or failure? Various case studies will be examined relating to topics such as culture, opportunity, personality, genius, persistence, and achievement. This is an interdisciplinary course, primarily drawing from sociology, psychology and history. You will be able to develop practical tools to define your own personal and professional goals and determine how you can overcome obstacles to achieve your goals. The "ubiquitous assimilation" of information characterizes the 21st Century. Our beliefs about gender, race, and the consumption of good from food to clothing to dwellings are influenced by a constant stream of media messages, oftentimes without our conscious awareness. In this course, we will explore these messages and their desired effects and develop ways to discern truth from propaganda, effectively analyze media messages for function, intent and bias, and understand how this information contributes meaning to the lives of individuals and to society as a whole. CWI-101-501H	CWI: Language and Identity	3	Tue	Lecture Hybrid	Vassar, Amy	8/23/21	12/18/21
Nampa Campus	Academic Building	320	24	28	amyvassar@cw.edu	10:00 AM	11:15 AM
Language and Identity How literate are you? What parts of your life does literacy affect? What role does a person's speech and writing play in first impressions and stereotypes? Does your lexicon determine whether or not you get a job? A date? Should it? What causes linguistic stereotypes, such as French being the language of love and German the language of war? These questions and more will be addressed through movies, social media and literature. We will explore how the basic building blocks of language affect communication and how language and culture impacts a person's identity and their perspective of the world. Students will learn how an awareness of language and identity can help them to better navigate and participate in a multilingual world. Hybrid course - has an online component
